

Joe's Place is a youth centre right in central Moose Jaw that aims to help youth reach their full potential. The South Saskatchewan Community Foundation through the Moffat Family Fund and other funds has supported Joe's Place over a number of years through grants to support their building and their activities, such as camps and recreational excursions.

Chemical free, welcoming, inclusive and fun - no matter what your background is as a young person, Joe's Place is a place where you can find a way to belong in a healthy and supportive environment.

Joe's Place recently shared with us their highlight video for their Cypress Hills Camping Trip. This trip was made possible thanks to your support and this year's trip is coming up in August with many excited youth signed up to go.

Keep in mind that these youth could not afford to do all the great outdoor activities you see in this video without your support.
