

Donating Your Life Insurance

with the South Saskatchewan Community Foundation

(SSCF)

The information on this page was last updated on: May 17, 2023

A donation of life insurance can create a legacy of giving that will continue to forever grow and give back to the organizations and causes that you love.

Your Options When Donating Life Insurance

1 Donate the ownership of your life insurance policy to SSCF

OR

2 Retain the ownership of your life insurance policy and name SSCF as a beneficiary of your policy.

With either option, you designate your own fund or one of our vital community funds so we can carry out your wishes for generations to come.

Why Donate Your Life Insurance?

Increase Your Charitable Bequests

Donating death benefit proceeds from life insurance policies can increase your charitable bequests to causes that you are passionate about growing far beyond your life span.

Amplify the Effectiveness of Your Giving

Through giving a life insurance policy to charity, your tax receipt has the potential to be greater than your marginal tax rate—which amplifies the effectiveness of your giving.

No Administrative Hassles

SSCF handles the administrative work of creating funds and granting donations to charitable causes of your choosing for your peace of mind.

An Easy Way to Leave Your Legacy

Life insurance donations are an easy and accessible way for anyone to create their own legacy fund.

Give today.
Grow forever.
